MEMORANDUM

To: General Assembly Legislative Assistants

This guide is intended to provide you and your Legislator with information about the Program Evaluation Division. We are a non-partisan legislative staff unit of the Legislative Services Office created in 2007 to determine if programs of state government are returning sufficient benefits to justify continued taxpayer investment. We include recommendations in our reports for increasing the efficiency and effectiveness of North Carolina government.

The Joint Legislative Program Evaluation Oversight Committee oversees our staff, approves our workplan containing the topics we are to evaluate, and conducts hearings on our reports. If your Legislator wants us to conduct an evaluation, we are available to help prepare a request for consideration by our Joint Committee.

Our goal is to provide you full access to our personnel and resources. We want to help your Legislator make informed decisions. If your Legislator has any questions or has a program or agency they would like evaluated, please call me directly.

Sincerely,

John W. Turcotte
Director

General Description of the Program Evaluation Division

Program Evaluation Division and the Joint Legislative Program Evaluation Oversight Committee. Through Session Law 2007-78, the General Assembly created the Joint Legislative Program Evaluation Oversight Committee to oversee formal evaluation of state agency programs by the Program Evaluation Division—a central, non-partisan staff unit of the Legislative Services Commission. The Division functions in partnership with the other Legislative Services Divisions.

Report Topic Selection and Biennial Work Plan. The Joint Legislative Program Evaluation Oversight Committee determines evaluation topics and approves the Division's biennial work plan in consultation with the Division Director. Except for projects assigned by state law, most projects stem from the Oversight Committee’s work plan process. Part of the work plan process involves surveying all legislators at the start of the biennium for project ideas. The Division Director may receive and review project requests throughout the biennium from other sources, including requests made by individual legislators, but the Committee has final authority over topic selection.

Focus on Return on State Taxpayer Investment. The mission of the Program Evaluation Division is different from those of other fiscal review and audit organizations. The strategic focus is on program efficacy and return on state taxpayer investment. Although program evaluation is different from financial or performance auditing, the Division consults the State Auditor and agency internal auditors to avoid duplication of effort. Evaluations examine what state agency programs are really doing, at what cost, and to what effect. For programs that are determined to be ineffective, unnecessary, or in need of improvement, the Division’s reports recommend policy options for consideration by the General Assembly. The Division then follows up to determine if recommendations have been implemented by agencies or if further action is needed by the General Assembly.

Program Evaluation Division Staff. All full-time program evaluators hold advanced degrees or are certified or licensed professionals.

Dear Honorable Members of the General Assembly,

We are a permanent non-partisan legislative staff unit of the Legislative Services Office established by law in 2007 to determine if programs of state government are returning sufficient benefits to justify continued taxpayer investment.1

We have been very active during our first nine years, producing 124 reports with several having legislative action. We include recommendations in our reports for increasing the efficiency and effectiveness of state government. This publication follows up on those recommendations to determine what actions have been taken by the General Assembly or the agencies that were the subject of our evaluations.

Sincerely,

John W. Turcotte
Director

Legislative Oversight Organization in North Carolina

The Program Evaluation Division (PED) assists the General Assembly in fulfilling its responsibility to oversee government functions. PED primarily supports legislative oversight by conducting independent evaluations of state government as directed by the Joint Legislative Program Evaluation Oversight Committee (JLPEOC). As legislators perform their oversight function, they often have questions about how policies are being implemented, how money is being spent, and what results are being achieved. PED addresses those questions from an unbiased perspective through program evaluations.

Legislative Oversight Organization Across the Country

North Carolina was one of the last states to create a legislative program evaluation unit. The organizational placement of legislative evaluation units varies across the country (see figure below).2 About one-quarter of states, including North Carolina, have evaluation offices that operate as independent legislative units. Almost half of states have evaluation offices that are part of the legislative auditor’s office, whereas only a few states have evaluation offices within a legislative oversight or other committee. About two-thirds of states have a separate office that also conducts audits, typically a state auditor that conducts mainly financial audits as part of the executive branch.

Total Reports Released to Date: 124
As outlined in the Program Evaluation Division’s enabling statute, the biennial work plan is developed by the Joint Legislative Program Evaluation Oversight Committee and the Division Director, with input from staff. Requests for program evaluations must come from a member of the General Assembly. The Division Director will review the requests in light of staff capacity and the current work plan and will make a recommendation to the Oversight Committee as to alterations of the work plan.

Projects Recently Completed:

NRCS Environmental Quality Incentive Program (NRCS-EQIP). This project examined the efficiency and effectiveness of the grant application process for stream restoration evaluations administered by the Division of Water Resources of the Department of Environmental Quality under the Natural Resources Conservation Service’s (US Department of Agriculture) Environmental Quality Incentive Program. This program provides grants for stream restoration evaluations conducted on agricultural or non-industrial forest lands.

PED Contact: Jim Horne (jim.horne@ncleg.net; 301-1936)

Economic Development Partnership of North Carolina. This project examined the effectiveness of the Economic Development Partnership of North Carolina (EDPNC), a private nonprofit organization that was created in 2014 through legislation and is responsible for a number of economic development “marketing and sales” functions that previously resided within the North Carolina Department of Commerce. These responsibilities include new business recruitment; existing industry support; international trade and export assistance; small business counseling; and tourism, film, and sports promotion.

PED Contact: Sara Nienow (sara.nienow@ncleg.net; 301-1413)

Sedimentation and Stormwater Control Programs. This project evaluated the effectiveness and efficiency of the sedimentation and stormwater control permit programs administered by the Division of Energy, Mineral and Land Resources (DEMLR) in the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ). DEMLR administers the State Sedimentation Control Program and the federally mandated National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) Stormwater Permit Program. Both programs issue permits intended to prevent sediment pollution from leaving construction sites and protect North Carolina surface waters. This evaluation considered whether program activities provided by both programs are duplicative.

PED Contact: Adora Thayer (adora.thayer@ncleg.net; 301-1400)

Modernizing Spirituous Liquor Sales in NC. This project examined whether other systems for alcohol beverage control are appropriate for North Carolina. This evaluation provided a review of other alcohol beverage control systems, including the State of Washington, which recently changed its beverage control system from state government control of wholesale and retail control of spirituous liquor to a licensure model. The Program Evaluation Division’s report North Carolina’s Alcohol Beverage Control System Is Outdated and Needs Modernization recommended that the General Assembly consider whether the current system of alcohol beverage control needed further modernization.

PED Contact: Carol Shaw (carol.shaw@ncleg.net; 301-1216)

Services for Students with Disabilities. This evaluation examined the provision of services for students with disabilities at home and in school including State and federal guidelines and policies for determining the need for and the appropriate setting for services (in school, at home, or other setting). The evaluation also examined how Medicaid and other funding sources pay for these services including ensuring that services are medically necessary and not duplicated across settings.

PED Contact: Emily B. McCartha (emily.mccartha@ncleg.net; 301-1423)
Projects Underway:

Disaster Recovery Acts. This evaluation will study implementation of S.L. 2016-124 and S.L. 2017-119 (2016/2017 Disaster Recovery Acts). The project will examine the State’s current structure for distributing both state and federal funds, including federal Community Development Block Grant – Disaster Recovery funds, and determine whether modifications to the structure would result in increased time efficiencies in distributing funds to qualified recipients. It will also examine the current reporting requirements in this section and the 2016/2017 Disaster Recovery Acts to determine what modifications would provide the General Assembly with more complete and integrated information regarding the status of disaster recovery.

Disadvantaged Schools That Succeed. This evaluation will identify at least 10 high performing American school systems with predominantly economically disadvantaged student populations and compare the systems on several variables (e.g., pupil academic performance outcomes, charter school prevalence, student mobility, per pupil funding by source, total system and school average daily membership, pupil special need, school lunch assistance percentages, school calendars). In addition, this evaluation will explore reasons for the better outcomes of these systems and report on any common best practices applicable to North Carolina.

Child Protection Screening. This evaluation will examine the effectiveness of the child protective screening process used by county departments of social services and determine whether there are differences in how county departments of social services approach child protection screening and identify the need for a child protection response. The evaluation will also evaluate state supervision and guidelines for child protection screening. In North Carolina, child protective services are state-supervised by the Department of Health and Human Services and county-administered by 100 county departments of social services. Child protection screening is the process used by county departments of social services to determine whether reports of child maltreatment require a child protection response.

State Scholarships and Education Loan Programs. This evaluation will examine the extent to which state-funded scholarships, grants, and educational loan programs have met their goals. The evaluation will also examine the educational and vocational outcomes of students who have received this support.

State Ports Authority. This evaluation will examine the efficiency and effectiveness of the State Ports Authority and its operation of the Wilmington and Morehead City ports. The State Ports Authority is charged with promoting, developing, constructing, equipping, maintaining, and operating the harbors and seaports within the State. The 2017 financial audit of the Authority showed that its profitability had decreased over the previous year, and the General Assembly has appropriated $70 million for capital evaluations in recent years.

Projects Pending:

NC Innovations Waiver Services (Medicaid). This evaluation will examine the efficiency and effectiveness of the NC Medicaid Innovations Waiver Service – a federally approved 1915 C Medicaid Home and Community-Based Services Waiver. It allows individuals with intellectual or development disabilities to receive long-term care and services in their home or community instead of an institutional setting. The NC system contracts with LME-MCOs to facilitate services and oversee a network of community-based service providers.

Organizational Layers in the Department of Environmental Quality. This evaluation will examine the organizational layers of the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) by conducting a bottom up review of all supervisory, managerial, and executive positions and examine level of approvals required for issuance of permits for more complex industrial and agricultural activities. The Program Evaluation Division’s report Most Departments’ Spans of Control and Number of Organizational Layers Do Not Meet Recommended Levels found that DEQ had 10 organizational layers, which exceeded the statewide standard of 7 and was the fourth highest among the 21 principal departments.

Regional Councils of Government. This evaluation will examine the effectiveness of the 16 Regional Councils of Government in North Carolina including an examination of overall operations, staffing, activities, performance measures, finances, and services provided to local governments. Regional councils of governments are authorized under state law and executive order, and they provide programs and services to their local governments and residents.
